DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 96-123 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Richelsoph (U.S. Pat. No. 6,017,345). Figs. 19-20 of Richelsoph clearly shows an alternative embodiment of any of the plating systems shown in Figs. 1, 5, 7, 9, 11, 13, or 15 wherein the plate has a plurality of semi-spherical ring inserts 70, the ring inserts each having a axial threaded bore 76 provided to accept bone screws 40 (either headed as shown in Fig. 17 or headless as shown in Fig. 18). The configuration of a curved plate (as seen in Figs. 10 and 12) in combination with semi-spherical ring inserts 70 and headless bone screws clearly anticipates all of claims 96-123.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 3731

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 96-123 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-98 of U.S. Patent No. 6,454,769. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the '769 patent presents claims that are overall narrower in scope and thus constitute "species" of invention -- as opposed to the broader, more generic claims of the instant application. That is, a patent claim directed to the species of invention ABCX "anticipates" the generic invention ABC. Accordingly, absent a terminal disclaimer, claims 96-123 are properly rejected under the doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Olerud (U.S. Pat. No. 5,735,853, of record) is also seen to anticipate at least claims 96-103 and 105-123 of the instant application. Particular attention is drawn to the Olerud col. 4, lines 27-32, "Owing to the snap-in engagement, the bone screw 3 will be retained in the hole insert 19, such that it no longer can be displaced in the longitudinal direction in relation to the hole insert, but still is able to rotate about its longitudinal axis in relation to the hole insert." Such a structure is seen to anticipate what the applicant may believe is the point of novelty of the instant invention over the prior art, i.e. that the fastener and the ring are configured to couple together without fixedly engaging the ring to the plate.
